

Regulatory investigations & inquiries

What we do

- We advise corporates and individuals on investigations, civil enforcement proceedings and prosecutions by regulators and professional bodies across a wide range of sectors.

How we help

- Our clients trust us to give them the support they need. We work closely with clients from the regulator's first contact, handling document requests, assisting with interviews, and acting on any enforcement action. We assist clients facing investigations by the Commerce Commission, Financial Markets Authority, Reserve Bank, Serious Fraud Office, Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment, WorkSafe and other regulators. Our lawyers are also experienced in representing parties before public inquiries.

Experience

- acting for a derivatives issuer and the New Zealand subsidiary of a Hong Kong-listed company in the first civil penalty proceeding brought by the Financial Markets Authority under the Anti-Money Laundering and Countering Financing of Terrorism Act 2009
- acting for the helicopter companies in prosecutions under the Health and Safety at Work Act 2015 in relation to tour operations on Whakaari/White Island following the eruption in December 2019, the largest investigation and proceeding conducted by WorkSafe to date
- acting for banking, financial and lending institutions in responding to investigations by the Commerce Commission into alleged breaches of disclosure requirements under the Credit Contracts and Consumer Finance Act 2003
